Chickasaw Nation Internship Housing Rules

Responsibility for Personal Property

The Chickasaw Nation does not assume responsibility. The intern hereby expressly releases the Chickasaw Nation from any and all liability related to personal property:

- A. Loss or damage to articles of personal property that occurs in its buildings or on its grounds. Interns are encouraged to carry appropriate insurance to cover such losses.
- B. Power outages, including those that result in the loss of stored computer memory, data and/or files or voltage spikes or surges which damage computers or any appliance. Interns are encouraged to use voltage surge protectors.

Responsibility for Common Areas (hallways, stairwells, lounges, etc.)

Interns are expected to take every precaution to assure that common areas are not abused. Removal of common area furnishings or equipment from their proper location constitutes theft of Chickasaw Nation property.

Firearms, Explosives and Candles

Firearms, fireworks, ammunition, explosives, weapons of any sort, flammable liquids, incendiary devices, Bunsen burners and torches are not allowed in intern housing. Setting a fire or using any kind of open flame (including candles) or open filament device (including incense) within the intern residence is strictly prohibited.

Pets

Pets are strictly prohibited at all times.
